Seed Fair for Wetaskiwin

At a meeting of the Directors of the Agricultural Society held on the 18th inst. it was decided to hold a Seed Fair. The Secretary was instructed to interview the Department of Agriculture with a view to leaving this arrangement for as early a date as possible after the 1st of January, in Wetaskiwin. Under the act respecting Agriculture, Societies provision is made for financial assistance from the Government in the matter of prizes. This fair is important this year in view of the large amount of damaged grain in this district and the necessity for the farmers obtaining first class seed for their spring operations and those farmers who are requiring seed will in this manner be assisted in getting in touch with the Department of Agriculture. Further notice of this seed fair will be given in the course of the next few issues.

R.N. SHAW, Secretary.

Communication

(We do not necessarily endorse the sentiments advanced by this or other correspondent under the heading—Ed.)

Wetaskiwin, Nov. 20, Editor, Times
Dear Sir—While the high cost of living is ongoing the serious attention of statesmen and sociologists both in England and Canada, it is gratifying to note that in Wetaskiwin, at any rate, the high cost of living is being looked after in a highly practical manner.

I noticed in last week's issue of your distinguished contemporary, among other items of absorbing interest, such as "a heavy fall of the beautiful", an announcement to the effect that a discount of 20 to 30 per cent would be allowed on all caskets.

To those of us who are in measurable distance of that period in our career when there is heard the crunching of wheels on the front walk, whispered conversations and the smell of flowers, it will be almost to reflect that by making an immediate investment in the necessary article of envelopment, saving of at least 30 per cent may be effected.

This, surely, is an unprecedented "slump" in the cost of living.

Yours truly, Selly Brown.

Red Deer, Alta., Nov. 14th, 1916.

To the Editor—

Sir—In view of the recent statement in the daily press that Sunday threshing will be permitted in Alberta and Saskatchewan this season, I wish to make a statement of the facts so far as the Province of Alberta is concerned.

On October 31st the Commissioner of Immigration, Mr. J. Briggs Walker, read the Attorney General's statement that the Honorable the Minister of the Interior had asked the Mounted Police to take no action against individuals for threshing on Sunday because of the serious situation in Saskatchewan and Alberta from delayed threshing operations, and asking the Attorney General to state his attitude to the matter so that a statement might be issued to the press that "under the circumstances threshing operations may be conducted without reasonable fear of prosecution."

The Deputy Attorney General wired me as follows in reply: "Have advised that no fiat will be granted on complaint until circumstances fully investigated in each case."

Without discussing the alleged action of the Minister of the Interior looking to the suspension of the Lord's Day Act, which is a part of the Criminal Code, I would make the following comments upon the situation.

1 When the Parliament of Canada was considering the Act, it was suggested that a clause be introduced to allow Sunday harvesting in inclement weather. This proposal was opposed by the western members, led by the Hon. Thomas Greenway, to a man, he said, they said, it would result in an open Sunday in the western harvest fields. It was then enacted that each incident should be considered on its merits and that it came under the exceptions relating to works of necessity and mercy. The Act thus fully provides for all cases of necessity.

2 The policy of the Attorney General of Alberta in the past is indicated by the telegram above, namely, to carefully investigate all cases before taking action; and this policy will not be changed this season. With this policy the Lord's Day Alliance fully concurs. Sunday threshing will still be liable to action under the Act unless they can establish that there was a necessity. The burden of proof rests upon the offender.

3 The Alliance has always shown a willingness to hear the farmer's side of the question and has taken great pains to try to determine to what extent harvesting and threshing on Sunday are "necessary." We find that a very large number of the farmers of Alberta rarely find Sunday work necessary; and that such work is usually confined to newcomers in the country. I shall be glad to have letters from farmers upon the question giving their views as to Sunday work during the harvest season, and will advise the Attorney General accordingly.

Yours sincerely,
OLIAS H. HURSTIS,
Secretary Lord's Day Alliance.

Money to loan on good chattel security; long or short terms. C.D. Smith, Dryden Block.

This is authoritative.
The Geographic Board of Canada has decided that hereafter this is the way to spell Timiskaming and by "t". The decision was made following an investigation into the In-

A CONFESSION.

Dear little boy with wondering eyes.
That for the light of knowledge
yearn,
Who have such faith that I am wise
And know the things that you would know,
Though oft I shake my head and smile
To hear your childish questions flow,
I must tell you now, my little boy,
I cannot tell; I do not know.

Dear little boy, with eager heart,
Forever on the quest of truth,
Your riddles oft are past my ear,
To answer to your tender youth.
But some day you will understand
The things that now I cannot say.
When life shall take you by the hand
And lead you on its wondrous way.

Dear little boy with hand in mine,
Together through the world we fare.
How much that I would fain divine
I have not yet the strength to bear.
Like you with riddling words I ask,
Like you I hold another hand,
And happily when I do my task
I, too, shall understand.

EXTENDED COURTESIES.

How Andrew Broder Loaned Orange
Hall For The Mass.

It seems that we will have to re-surrender the account of harmony between Orangemen and Catholics which came out of Waterville, Quebec, but fortunately there are other incidents of the same kind in, apparently well authenticated, Canadian history. An exact parallel, in fact, to what was reported to have taken place in Waterville, occurred some years ago in the county of Dundas on the St. Lawrence.
"Andy" Broder, M.P., who is highly popular with all sections of his constituency, was the good fairy in the case. A priest of the county was seeking to organize a congregation in a settlement where he had no church. It was his custom to hold the mass alternately in the homes of two of the more prominent of the members of his flock. The services were held periodically only, and one Sunday when he arrived he was shocked to find that his two chief parishioners had forgotten that this was the day of his visit and had not come and locked up their houses. As soon as the other members of the congregation became aware of the state of affairs, consternation spread. What was to be done? Here was the "Father" come specially to hold mass, and there was no place large enough in which to hold it. Then one of the troubled ones, but not himself of the number of Parliament, who happened to be in the village that day. So off they went to him and begged for advice.
"Andy" is a Methodist, but that did not daunt the troubled Catholics at all. They knew he was a good man and an Irishman. Nor did the difficulty trouble "Andy" either—perhaps for the latter reason. There was an Orange hall in the place, and an Irish-Canadian went straight off to the keeper of the keys and opened up the hall, and mass was celebrated there under the picture of William the Third and all the insignia of the O.O.F. Of course, there were a few crackers in the lodge, who feared that some dreadful consequences might ensue from this radical departure from established usage. But Andrew Broder is never at a loss for a reply.
"Do you think," he said to the doubters, "that it would do King William more harm than he did them?"
And that was the end of the crisis.

PROPHECY OF PARIS.

Who Can Who Has Fascinated the Gay
City by Prediction.

One of the latest extraordinary persons in Paris today is Mme. de Thebes—prophecy. Alexander Dumas fil-lious knew her extraordinary powers of clairvoyance and saw many proofs of it. From men till now her fame, instead of decreasing and disappearing as is generally the case with the modern prophetess, has increased in a most remarkable manner.

The young Dumas was Mme. de Thebes' prophetess, and when she was endeavouring to decide what profession
to adopt, after bad health prevented her from going on the stage, she was drawn into a study of the music and mysteries of the East, by a novel which Dumas fil- was then engaged upon—"La Route de Thebes." The title of the book—never finished, or the way—suggested to the young fil-lious an appropriate name for herself
as prophetess.

She made a special study of the lines of the hand, benefitting by the instruction of the best "masters." She was very beautiful, and even today,
when her hair is white, her face preserves its freshness, charm, and regularity of line. Soon all Paris was flocking to her rooms, so that she might lift for them a corner of the curtain which veils the future.

Her success in prediction has been striking and uncanny. Before 1913 darned, she said it would be "a black year." And Mme. de Thebes: a predict of disaster. Many of the great and tragic happenings of recent times have been foretold by her, and she had warned too prominent persons who went down in the Titanic of the line in store for them.

Mr. Straus was an old friend of hers.
One day she "read his hand," and told him that "the water was his enemy." The famous journalist replied:
"My malady, that 'cees cepit' repel-lens, has been a great deal longer
of death by drowning."

A little while after his marriage
with Mme. de Thebes, he said to her:
"Beware of the sea!" she said to him:
"That is serious." Col. Astor replied:
"I am not often on it." The terrible Paris Charity Bazaar fire in which 123 women and three hundred of their lives were lost, was predicted by Mme. de Thebes. She told the Empress Elizabeth of Austria to guard herself against assassins, and she would have thought that that royal lady would have been one of the last to draw upon herself the anger of the anarchists.

"That," responded the Empress,
"will be a beautiful death for a woman like me!"
Mme. de Thebes, is a gloomy about the future. "The history of the world

Keeping Ponds Clean.

Copper sulphate often used for destroying the scum-like weeds in ponds. But precautions must be taken, for unless the right proportion of sulphate is used any fish which may be in the pond will be injured. The proportion of copper sulphate used in fish ponds at New Gardens, London, England, is one part to from 750,000 to 1,000,000 parts of water. Sulphate of copper in a pulverized state is placed in a porous bag and dragged through the water until dissolved. The water in St. James' Park, London, it might be mentioned, has for two summer-
been kept free from scum by this method.

Landlord and Tenants.

Visitor (at parlor)—Where did that fine-looking pauper come from?
Superintendent—The city. He owns the St. Fashion flats.
"My goodness! Why is he here?"
"He charges such high rents that they have been empty since the second year."
"Hum! He seems to be on familiar footing with a good many of the other paupers."
"Yes; they are the people who were his tenants the first year."

To Keep From Growing Old.

A swindling firm once advertised that it would send for the sum of 50 cents a recipe which, if followed to the letter, would keep folks from growing old. Some credulous persons answered the advertisement, remitting
the required fee, and received the following reply:

"We would advise all such idiots as you to commit suicide at about the age of twenty-five."

More Than She Asked.

She—If we are going to be married
you must give up smoking.
He—Yes.
She—And drinking, and your clubs.
He—Yes.
She—Now, doesn't anything else suggest itself to you that you will give up of your own accord?
He—Yes.
She—What?
He—All idea of marrying you.

At Her Word.

"Why do you not come to me for advice any more?" said the medium to her former regular customer.
"Well," said he, "the last time I was there you told me that if I wanted to save enough to get married on I must stop spending money foolishly,
and I took you at your word."

Realistic.

Mrs. Brush—Did you see my husband's painting, "The Country Road,"
at the exhibition?
Painter—No, I did not. Was it
good?
"Why, it was so natural they had to do the road every day to get to the dust from going on everything."

What the British

Navy Has Done

Here is a list of the more important accomplishments of the British navy in the present war.

1 It has bottled up the German fleet in its harbors. Picture what would have happened if the Germans had been able to use their powerful navy to attack the Allies' coasts. Calais would be Prussian and a tributary to Berlin.

2 It has kept the trade routes open, so that the Allies may obtain food and supplies. That does not appear difficult on paper, but think what it means—all commerce raiders had to be swept from the ocean and kept off. One escaped some months ago, and the papers of the world were headlined with the news! The submarine blockade had to be smashed. It was smashed. The English are catching submarines in their own waters as fast as the Germans are building them. Since the outbreak of the war, only 10 per cent of English shipping has been destroyed by torpedoes. Finally, the waterways must not be forgotten that the time you are in Germany you will see the water of the sea coast swarming with trawlers, fishing for mines, and you will find your path never cleared that you may pass—for the Germans are not over particular as to mines.

3 It has carried on naval operations in every part of the world. It is ready for anywhere at any time. To appreciate this, spread out a map and imagine yourself in charge of those operations; and do not forget that all the time you must hold the German fleet in port and keep the seas
clear.

4 The navy has conveyed the Allied troops across every ocean. Here is a specific case: For two years it has conveyed Kitchener's army back and forth across the Channel—half a million men and horses—lost a ship! There would be no British offensive today were it not for the navy.

5 It has maintained the German blockade.
Violent arguments are indulged in as to whether or not Germany can be starved or whether or not to call the blockade a blockade.
But the fact remains that the Germans are not only unable to obtain munitions, food and supplies from outside sources, but also their own commerce has been paral-yzed. Where are the German merchant ships of today? Where are the German goods? One may discuss the theories and technicalities of a blockade indefinitely.

But let the doubter charter a vessel and try to reach Germany.

Such is an outline of the work. Take the patrolling of the North Sea alone.
From the Orkney Islands to Norway is nearly 300 miles. Not one German ship, not any ship must slip across that line.
The weather in the North Sea is bad.
Storms and fog are the ordinary run of things. Imagine patrolling that 300 miles in fog at night. Nice job, that. The British navy has done it, is doing it, and will do it, just as the navy has carried out those other duties and carried them out well.

To accomplish so vast a task, ships have been necessary—ships of all kinds—plenty of ships! Today there are under administration at least 6000 ships.

The 194th Edmonton Highlanders
Battalion has arrived safely in England.

Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, aged 81 years, died Tuesday night in Vienna.

Living's Cost is Increasing

What will be the end of high living? Boots are higher, clothing is higher by 10 to 20 per cent., flour is higher by 20 per cent., only one of the many advances; canned goods are higher, sugar is away up compared with what it was a few months ago; dried fruits are into the air, so to say; and, in fact, everything that a man or a woman or a child has got to have has gone soaring toward the clouds.

The producer is ever asking more from the wholesaler; the wholesaler and the mill are ever demanding more from the retailer, and the retailer is insisting that the consumer pay the charges of all.

And here is the cheering news that the worst has yet to come. Jim Allen, greatest of all wheat speculators, says that there will be $15 a barrel flour.

The shoe manufacturer says that he advances that have come are as nothing compared with what is to come. Leather, he says, is twice its normal price, and shoes, too, must show a corresponding increase.

Canned goods have soared from 15 to 100 per cent. Sugar is up approximately 40 to 50 per cent. Nothing is to do go up 25 to 50 per cent., especially woolsens, because sheep are getting scarcer. Underwear is half again as expensive. Shirts are up by 30 per cent.

The Necessity for Greater Economy

If the people as a whole understood clearly why it is necessary to economize, there would be a much greater response to the appeals of the leaders of the nation. The enormous purchases made by the Allies from our manufacturers have entailed the payment of high wages to industrial workers and thus, from the very necessities of the Empire, he latter find themselves possessed of a greater purchasing power than at any previous time. This power can be used either for selfish gratification or for helping to win the war. If the former—the selfish—course is followed it is practically frittering away the resources of the Empire. On the other hand, the thoughtful patriot will save every cent to lend to his country. Those with the habit of spending freely are apt to look with aversion upon those who are thrifty, but for the time being those who do have are the ones who forge the "silver bullets" that are now more than ever necessary.

The Athabasca Country

At present the public mind turns momentarily, but regularly from the consideration of the World War to the conditions which are bound to exist at the conclusion of the struggle. The eyes of thousands of men—and of women also—will look toward Canada as a land of opportunity. Fortunate it is that Canada has land enough and to spare.

The Athabasca flows for about 100 miles from the Rocky Mountains to Lake Athabasca. Two stretches of about 250 miles each, or about 50 per cent. of the total length, are navigable. But much more effective means of transportation is now being rapidly completed in the railway under construction. This will open up for settlement a vast territory hitherto inaccessible with difficulty—a new, old country traversed over 100 years ago by Sir John Franklin and other pioneer explorers.

A pamphlet, which contains a number of descriptive illustrations, is being distributed free of charge by the Railway Lands Branch, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

Live-Stock

A notable incident during the past month has been the action taken by the Live-Stock Commissioner of Saskatchewan and by the Dominion authorities to procure the exportation of young stock to the United States and in interesting farmers in the purchase of breeding stock. So great was the movement of live-stock into the United States at Winnipeg that it became necessary for the railways to refuse to accept shipments for a limited period. The high cost of grain and of other food-stuffs is causing farmers to hesitate to carry cattle through the winter for fattening next Spring.

German Losses Since War Began 3,556,018

German casualties from the beginning of the war to the end of September were 3,556,018, according to an official British communication given out in London. The statement says:

"German casualties, exclusive of corrections, reported in the month of September in German official casualty lists, were:

"Dead 32,282.

"Prisoners and Missing, 32,259.

"Wounded, 15,343.

"These added to those reported in previous months, including the corrections reported in September, total since the war:

"Dead, 870,482.

"Wounded, 2,257,007.

"The figures included all the German nationalities—Prussians, Bavarians, Saxons and Württembergers. They did not include naval casualties or casualties among the colonial troops.

"It should be noted that the figures do not constitute an estimate by the British authorities. They merely represent the casualties announced in the German official lists. Also that the casualties are those reported during the month of September, and not reported as having occurred in September."

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—Thomas Kelley is to spend two and one-half years in Stony Mountain penitentiary. Such was the sentence imposed this afternoon by Mr. Justice Prud'homme, head of the firm of Thomas Kelley & Sons, found guilty by a jury of theft, receiving and of false pretences in connection with the construction of the Manitoba parliament buildings.

Camrose, Alta., Nov. 18.—Fire caused by explosion of gas in a coal stove, partially destroyed the G.T.P. station at Camrose shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. The fire brigade, which was handicapped by a break in the hose, managed to keep the fire inside the wooden building. All the papers, cash and office fixtures were saved.

HEATH, Alberta, Nov. 18.—Two women, a mother and daughter, are dead, as the result of an attempt to fight a fire with coal oil here yesterday. Their names are Mrs. E. Trimble, the mother, and Mrs. W. Cook, the daughter. The women operate a restaurant here, and last evening Mrs. Trimble attempted to revive a smouldering fire by pouring coal oil on the embers. There was a flash and her clothing became ignited.

Camrose (From the Canadian)

At the organization meeting of the Liberals of Camrose a week ago the following officers and executive were elected:

Hon. President, Geo. P. Smith, M.P.P.
President, J. Watson Young.
First Vice-president, E.D. Fleming.
Second Vice-president, L.R. Jackson.
Secretary, J.T. Johnson.
Treasurer, Geo. W. Wells.

A discussion of woman suffrage at its effect on the organization resulted in the unanimous adoption of the following resolution:

Moved by George P. Smith, seconded by D. Twomey—
"That this Association extend an invitation to the women of Camrose, who are supporters of Liberal principles, to form an association of their own and to affiliate with this organization in order that we may co-operate in the work which we both have at heart."

The annual meeting of the Camrose Curling Club was held in the Town hall on Monday evening, November 13th. There was a splendid attendance and the old time Camrose spirit was in evidence and the meeting was a most successful one from every phase.

An oratorical contest was held at the Normal School on Friday evening last, when a bronze medal awarded by Mr. Geo. P. Smith, M.P.P., was presented to Miss Pearl Rankin of Camrose, the winner.

Albertans at Courcellette

By James Madden

Soldiers, say good bye; tonight, For the parting is with dawn; When the forces come together, With the daylight coming on, Greet the morn, ere it is born, In any kind of weather.

Comrades gird your swords tonight, For the battle is with the dawn. Oh the clash of arms together, With the triumph coming on, Greet the foe, and lay him low, When Canadians fight together.

Albertans shoulder arms tonight, For we meet the Hun at dawn. Oh, to face the foe together, With the battle coming on, Greet the Hun, with sword and gun, When Canadians stand together.

Canadians give a cheer tonight, For the dying is with the dawn. Oh, to meet our foes together, With the silence coming on, Greet the end, as friend to friend, When Canadians die together.

Hang up the lantern while working in barn or stable. Many barns are burned by lanterns being knocked over and starting fires.

Cook, Indian Path, N.S., writes: "I am writing you a few lines to tell you what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. My face was covered with pimples. I tried different kinds of medicine, and all seemed to fail. I was one day to a friend's house, and there they advised me to use B. B. B. so I purchased two bottles, and before I had them taken I found I was getting better. I got two more, and when they were finished I was completely cured. "I don't think there is a more anxious time for parents than when their children have croup. Without they are prepared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they must wait for the doctor and listen to the choking, metallic cough and watch their little one gasping for breath.

You know the great danger of croup is the formation of a false membrane in the larynx, and until this is expelled relief cannot be obtained, and the spasmodic choking continues. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in frequent doses. It will loosen this membrane and cause the child to expel it by vomiting.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is an absolutely safe and certain remedy for croup, and if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack."

WAS TROUBLED
FOR FIVE YEARS.

When the livers become congested the stomach gets out of order, the liver does not work properly, and then follows the violent sick headaches, the sourness of the stomach, belching of wind, heart burn, water brash, biliousness, etc.

Keep your bowels regular by using Milburn's Laxative Pills. They will clear away all the effects matter which collects in the system and thus do away with constipation and all its allied troubles.

Mr. John Fitzgerald, Britania Bay, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled with my stomach and liver for the past five years, and have had constipation causing headache, backache and dizzy spells, and sometimes I would almost fall down. I tried all kinds of remedies without obtaining any relief."

I commenced using Milburn's Laxative Pills, and they have cured me. I have recommended them to many of my friends, and they are all very much pleased with the results they have obtained from their use."

Gwynne

Last Friday evening, Albert E. Ottewill, B.A., Secretary of the Department of Extension, University of Alberta, paid a visit to the Crooked Lake School and entertained the audience with a six-act program of moving pictures, the subjects ranging from "Colonel Hezlar in the Trenches," views of the "Allied Armies in France," to views of "Deep Sea Fishing" and "The Atlantic"—in short, gave to some their first view of the "movies" with a program equal to those shown in any movie-theatre in one of our localities.

Accompanying Mr. Ottewill was Mr. Erickson of the Leland Stanford University, who is in the province with Mr. Ottewill to study the social conditions and the rural work of our University. He gave a short talk—much too short—to the boys and girls upon their opportunities and pleasures.

Mr. Ottewill had promised an illustrated lecture upon the war, but at the last moment decided to bring down a portable moving-picture lantern which his department just received a few days ago, to see just how the scene would "take" in the country schools of the Department. It "took" exceedingly well at Crooked Lake.

If it meets with general approbation, it is his hope to establish circuits all over the province, consisting of about twenty-five schools each, and in each to place a machine and operator; and this way, with the co-operation of the local school authorities, to provide the outlying districts with that vast educational and recreative force of which the red-pictures are capable.

Before the close of the evening, Mr. Montgomery spoke of the aims and ambitions of the local Patriotic Fund, with particular reference to the local district, and stated that Crooked Lake district ranked third in the constituency's collections of last year. In reply to that criticism of maladministration so often heard through the Dominion, he stated that last year but one and one-half per cent of the Fund was used for expenses, while this year even that would not be necessary, as the provincial governments were taking over the expense-budgets.

Altogether, the evening was a profitable one to those present.
